

Land Systems

RF technology is ubiquitous in land-based systems including coax cable and interconnect interfaces to ground vehicle antennas, soldier communication systems, hand-held and vehicle console radios, radar, and IED countermeasures.

